

WILD Gives Back Announces Next Generation Women in Finance Scholarship

CHICAGO, IL October 21, 2022 - WILD Gives Back (WGB) is excited to announce the Next Generation Women in Finance Scholarship of $5000 has been awarded to two students at Dominican University and Benedictine University. Split evenly for the fall semester of 2022, the Scholarship has provided funds to help cover tuition. Dominican University and Benedictine University are two of Associated Colleges of Illinois' (ACI's) 24 member colleges and universities, whose students could apply for the scholarship.

"We are pleased to collaborate with ACI and support these students as they explore their studies in finance," said Elizabeth Cook, WGB President. "We look forward to helping even more young women through ACI achieve their goals with our WILD Gives Back fundraiser in January."

"It has been our pleasure to be able to find deserving students for these scholarships," said Daisy Gomez, Director of Events and Scholarships at ACI. "We appreciate that WILD Gives Back was able to entrust ACI with these two scholarships as well as opportunities."

WILD Gives Back is an extension of Women In Listed Derivatives, an industry organization that helps women advance in the derivatives industry. WGB envisions a world where all women have the support needed to be defined by their potential, not their circumstances. Its mission is to be the driver of change and create a sustainable platform for women of all walks of life to succeed in the financial industry.

For Media Inquiries

Catheryn Curley

wgb@womeninlistedderivatives.org